(Volborth), represented in fig. lb, the only difference being that the dorsal plate is so much extended upwards as to separate two of the plates of the second series. These two plates are notched on the upper side for the reception of the small hexagonal plate of the third series. Several of the other plates are also variously notched. In the species G. Logani, G. Forbesi, and G. gracilis, many of the plates have re-entering angles, but in their arrangement in the walls of the cup they form regular series. The pectinated rhombs also exhibit some peculiar new features. In no other genus have more than three been observed, and these, in all the genera except Echino-encrinites, are placed one at the base of the dorsal side and two in the upper half of the body, as in the genus Pleurocystites. The surface of...
